PERFORMANCE STANDARD / MODE	SED.18m.11.	Foundation: Social Understanding – The developing understanding of the responses, communication, emotional expressions, and actions of other people
EXPECTATION / SUBSTRAND		At around 18 months of age, children know how to get the infant care teacher to respond in a specific way through gestures, vocalizations, and shared attention; use another's emotional expressions to guide their own responses to unfamiliar events; and learn more complex behavior through imitation. Children also engage in more complex social interactions and have developed expectations for a greater number of familiar people.
